Civil Rights Drive Stalled

NAACP Opens Convention Amid Defeatism

BOSTON (AP) — The nation's oldest and largest civil rights group, the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, opened its 58th annual convention today in an atmosphere of national uncertainty over the direction of the civil rights revolution.

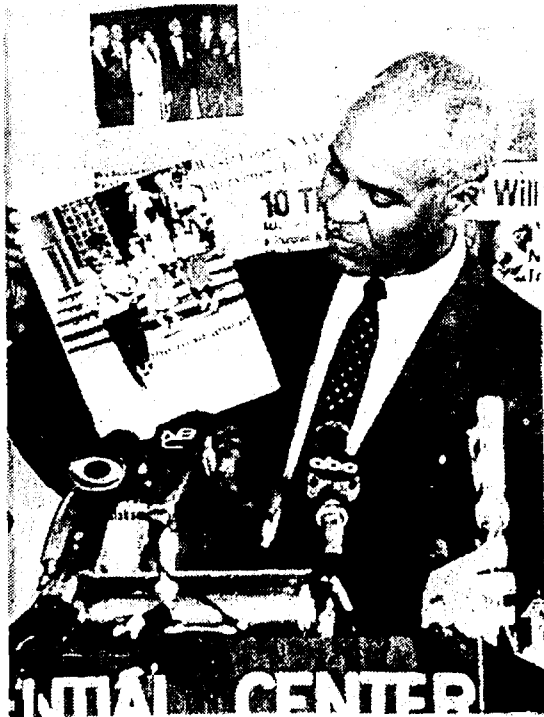

Roy Wilkins, executive director of the 441,000-member organization, renewed Sunday his criticisms of black power, then told a news conference there will be more racial riots unless the white community does more to help Negroes with jobs, housing and economic security.

"There is a contest on between those who say they believe in law and order and those who say the only way to make you believe in law and order is for us to riot," Wilkins said. He went on to contrast the NAACP with the black power-oriented Congress of Racial Equality, which removed a multiracial membership clause from its constitution at a convention in Oakland, Calif., last week.

UAW Seeking Ambitious Pact

First Session Today At Bargaining Table

By KIT KINCADE
Associated Press Writer

DETROIT (AP) — Leaders of the nation's largest industrial union today sat down at the bargaining table with officers of the world's largest manufacturing corporation to present "the longest and most ambitious list of demands" ever laid out by the union.

Describing his goals with these superlatives, Walter P. Reuther began negotiations between his 1.4-million member United Auto Workers Union and General Motors Corp.

Industry bargainers got their first hint of the details behind the top demands Reuther has outlined generally as a substantial wage increase, guaranteed annual income and wage parity between American and Canadian workers.

BITTER BARGAINING
Both sides admit that the number of precedent-breaking proposals on the union's list of mosts could make for bitter bargaining and possibly a tough strike.

Reuther opens contract talks with Ford Tuesday and with Chrysler Wednesday. The three-year contracts between the UAW and the Big Three automakers expire Sept. 6, just as manufacturers will be getting ready to splash their 1968 models onto the market.

Aside from the hefty wage hike the UAW says it wants, there are a number of fundamentals which both sides feel will be hard to reach agreement on.

And these are the issues most likely to provoke a strike. "Long strikes usually aren't done for money, but for principle," said a top UAW negotiator. "A long strike for a few cents an hour just isn't worth it."

TOP ISSUES
Among the union proposals which could develop into issues of principle are:

—The guaranteed annual income. Company personnel officers say they're interested in knowing the details of Reuther's plan, but adamantly insist they won't "pay a man to loaf" or agree to any program which encourages absenteeism.

—Wage parity between American and Canadian workers. The industry says Canadians get paid an average of 30 per cent

BH Nazi Arrested As Drunk

DeFields Has Rough Weekend

Alex DeFields, who claims to be a former member of the American Nazi party, was arrested Saturday on a drunk and disorderly charge, after reportedly creating a disturbance in the Benton Harbor police station.

Police said DeFields, 28, of 1070 Paw Paw avenue, came to the station about 7 p.m. and demanded an officer's badge, while grabbing an officer's hat and pen.

The incident followed an earlier complaint by DeFields that the owner of a tavern had refused to serve him Saturday morning. Police said the matter was resolved and DeFields reportedly was served a glass of beer, only to walk out of the establishment without drinking or paying for the beer. The incident occurred Saturday morning in the Brooklyn tavern on Territorial road, Benton Harbor.

Police said DeFields posted a $100 bond and was to appear Monday in municipal court on the disorderly charge.

DeFields found himself in some further trouble at home Sunday night when, Benton township firemen reported, he fell asleep with a cigarette and the mattress of his bed caught fire.

Township firemen were called by his mother, Mrs. Nellie DeFields, 1070 Paw Paw avenue. The fire fighters reported they carried the bed out of the house to extinguish the blaze.

The fire was similar to another one the firemen had answered at the DeFields home on March 4. On that occasion, firemen said DeFields' cigarette apparently set a couch afire.

Legislators Are Near Budget Agreement

By JIM NICHOLS

LANSING (AP) — The Legislature is reported near agreement on a balanced general fund budget of about $1.1 billion for the new fiscal year, about $35 million more than the 1966-67 spending level but some $53 million less than Gov. George Romney asked this year.

The House Appropriations Committee estimates net state general fund revenue for the new year will be $1,066,909,937. Although fiscal 1967-68 is more than a week old, none of the bills authorizing state spending for the year has received legislative approval.

Agreement on a final package was thought unlikely until later this week. Senate sources said most members of the chamber's powerful Appropriations Committee would be away from Lansing until Thursday.

ONE DISAGREEMENT
But it was understood that ing it as midnight passed.

LITTLE CHOICE
The Senate, learning the House had not passed the measure, adjourned, leaving the House little choice except to adjourn also.

Majority Senate Republicans had wanted to wind up the work over the weekend, expressing concern that pressure for higher state spending would increase if final agreement was delayed until this week.

Although the Legislature reconvened today, work on the appropriations bills was expected to be stalled by the absence of the Senate committee.

ZOLLAR RESTING
Sens. Charles Zollar, R-Benton Harbor, Garland Lane, D-Flint, and committee chairman Frank Beadle, R-St. Clair, planning it as midnight passed.

Seen As Curb On Spending

People May Get To Vote On Restriction

By WILLIAM HEATH
Associated Press Writer

LANSING (AP) — Backers of a move to limit Michigan's recently approved personal income tax to 5 per cent directed their attention to the House today following a second round victory in the Senate.

Shortly before midnight Saturday, the Senate approved 27-7 a resolution calling for a constitutional amendment limiting any state imposed personal income tax to 5 per cent.

The same resolution was defeated 24-12, two votes short of the necessary two thirds, last May 18, the same day the Senate approved a state income tax, which, greatly modified, now awaits Gov. George Romney's signature.

If the resolution, sponsored by Sen. Milton Zaagman, R-Grand Rapids, is approved by the House it will be placed on the November, 1968, ballot for approval by the state's voters.

NO HIGHER
If the people approved, the personal income tax which stands at 2.6 per cent under the new income tax bill could be raised to 5 per cent and no higher.

"We have the governor's blessing on the 5 per cent limitation," Zaagman said.

He said he had showed the resolution to Romney and added that there was a precedent for such a limitation in view of ceilings on the sales tax and local income taxes.

However, Zaagman said he believed passage in the House would be a "touch and go" situation.

House Democrats, who have to provide at least 18 votes to pass the resolution, were expected to oppose it, as did several Senate Democrats.

House Democratic leader William Ryan, D-Detroit, advocates a graduated state income tax and feels a 5 per cent limit would not permit enough graduation.

A resolution to allow a graduated income tax, now forbidden by the constitution, has been approved by both houses and will appear on the 1968 ballot.

The House has not voted this year on Zaagman's resolution. However, in April, the chamber defeated 59-47 another measure containing both the 5 per cent limit and a provision legalizing graduated income levies.

Zaagman and Senate supporters of the resolution claim it is the only way to curb future boosts in the tax rate.

"THIS IS IT"

"The only way we can put some kind of restraint on spending is to say 'look fellows, this is it,'" Zaagman said. "The only way we're going to put some brakes on, is to put on a ceiling that they can't go beyond."

"We have a constitutional limit

GOP Congressmen Seek War's End

Eight Propose Program For De-escalation

WASHINGTON (AP) — Eight Republican congressmen proposed today a unilateral diplomatic initiative by the United States for a step-by-step de-escalation of the Vietnam war.

The group said the United States should halt all bombing in North Vietnam north of the 20th Parallel for 60 days. This area includes Hanoi but not the port city of Haiphong. If North Vietnam responded with a de-escalation move of its own within 60 days, the United States would then halt bombing north of the 20th Parallel for a 60-day period—and so forth through five steps.

STOP BOMBING
Assuming that both sides would respond in turn in this de-escalatory process, both the U.S. bombing of the North and the North Vietnamese infiltration into the South could come to an end," the Republican congressmen said.

Otherwise, they added, the U.S. bombing of North Vietnam would continue.

The proposal was outlined in a statement prepared for a news conference.

GROUP SPOKESMAN

Rep. F. Bradford Morse of Massachusetts, spokesman for the group, said if this plan of small steps were successful, "a spirit of confidence might emerge" between the United States and Hanoi which could lead to peace negotiations, a similar staged de-escalation in South Vietnam or both.

"By halting the bombing in stages, by starting the cessation in northern North Vietnam and gradually working southward, and by tying each successive stage to equivalent North Vietnamese reductions in its support

Changes In The Library Board

Friends of the St. Joseph public library reads the news Saturday with more than passing interest about the re-organization of its governing board.

Harry L. Rimes requested his board members to replace him in the presidency with John Paul Taylor, but agreed to continue as a member in that body.

The transition had been in the making for some time.

Mr. Rimes, a veteran in Twin City retailing, some time ago had turned over the management of the department store to his son, Donald, and having carried the load of the library presidency since 1945, it was only natural he might feel it time to shed at least part of that responsibility.

Except for the age differential between the two men, the public will find the transfer represents no abrupt difference in management concepts.

Each is devoted to the library by way of making it a leader in its field and their contributions toward that goal mesh like finely ground gears.

Mr. Rimes started earlier in the endeavor.

He first went on the board in 1933 and 12 years later assumed the presidency.

During his tenure the original building at Main and Elm streets was re-designed and modernized, with particular emphasis on a children's section.

The city's continuing growth, however, outpaced that effort and some years ago President Rimes began the search for the money to replace the structure built with Carnegie funds in 1904.

A tax supported program seemed remote considering its pre-exemption by the schools, the new county building, the new waterworks, to mention a few pressing necessities.

Mr. Rimes found the answer in a long time friend, Fred C. Palenske, the founder of Industrial Rubber.

It was a happy meeting ground of two minds, one with the financial ability and desire to do something for his town; the other with the persuasiveness to channel that capacity into a cultural purpose.

Mr. Taylor entered into the equation four years ago in his joining the board and his appointment as building chairman to bring Mr. Rimes' plans and Mr. Palenske's money into reality.

The result of this three-way effort speaks for itself.

St. Joseph is fortunate to number three such men in its midst and within the library board itself equally well situated to have the continuing leadership for the library's future.

Escalating Deficit

Under the new economics advanced by John Maynard Keynes, large government deficits are supportable when the economy slows down. In the fiscal year which ended June 30, the conditions of the Keynes theory were fully met.

The economy is sluggish, and the government piled up what appears to be the second largest deficit since World War II. Although final figures will not be available for three weeks, the 1966-67 deficit is estimated around $11 billion. This was exceeded in 1959 when the red ink in the budget showed $12.4 billion.

When President Johnson offered his budget for 1966-67, he predicted a deficit of $1.8 billion. Realists scoffed at this figure. Instead of the original estimate of $10.5 billion to carry on the Vietnam war, the cost doubled.

The consequence of heavy spending for Great Society projects and the war has been raising the limit on the national debt to $358 billion and further erosion of the dollar's purchasing power.

The outlook for the current fiscal year's budget is even gloomier. Treasury Secretary Fowler has estimated spending at $136.5 billion and tax receipts of $122.9 billion, with a resulting deficit of $13.6 billion. But this deficit figure may go closer to the $20 billion or more economists predict.

Despite huge deficits, spending for non-defense purposes has nevertheless increased. In the last fiscal year this amounted to $49.8 billion and for 1967-68 spending for civilian projects has been raised $3.7 billion instead of reduced.

The Administration has made only a token gesture toward lower spending. The responsibility for slashing non-military items, therefore, falls upon a reluctant Congress.

Latins Hopeful

If the highly industrialized nations of Western Europe thought they had trouble building a common economic organization, the poorer and more numerous countries of Latin America face a tremendous task, but they are moving in that direction.

At the close of the annual meeting of the Inter-American states signed an "action plan of Vina del Mar," a plan designed to bring about eventual economic intergration of the region.

In the coming year specific assignments of work relating to the overall goal will be given the myriad trade groups and continental associations which will form the nucleus of the new organization.

One major change already has taken place in the Latin drive for economic integration. The United States which has been the sparkplug of the movement, will be phased out as times goes on. At the first of a series of meetings, scheduled for three months from now, the United States will be reduced to the status of an observer.

At this first workshop meeting, the all important problem of financial integration and what compensation to pay countries which may be hurt financially will be tackled. The Committee for the Alliance for Progress and the Inter-American Development Bank will work with other groups before the end of the year to develop priorities for financing multinational projects in Central America.

Dairy Imports

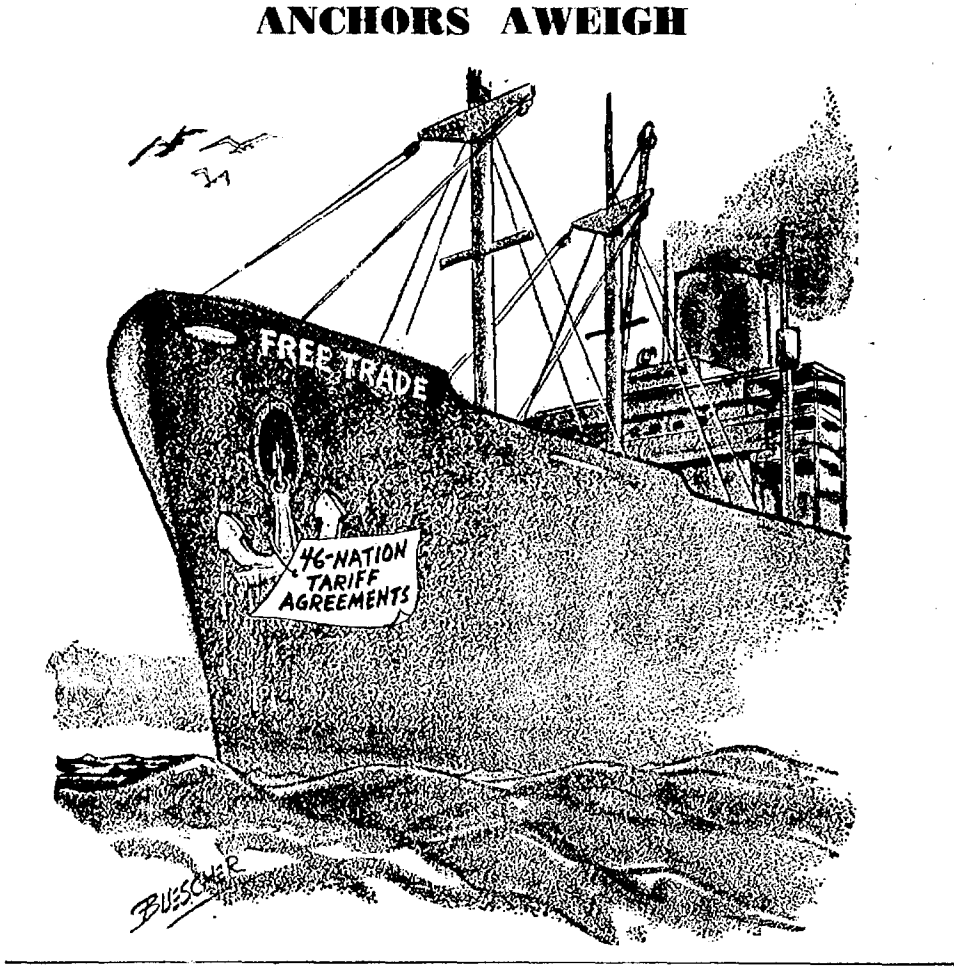

The Administration, which infuriated many American farmers last year by appearing to blame them for higher consumer food prices, has now moved to make some amends to the nation's dairymen, who have long been the most aggrieved group among the husbandmen.

President Johnson has ordered a sharp slash in dairy imports to a limit of 1.11 billion pounds of milk equivalent a year, an order which will in his words reduce the imports "to the normal level which prevailed before 1966."

In the past, the government has sought to limit dairy imports through a quota system for specific products. Foreign producers have been so successful in getting around these quotas through alterations, dilutions and color changes on cheese and other butterfat products that dairy imports rose from 900 million pounds in 1965 to a booming 2.7 billion pounds last year.

Meanwhile, U.S. dairymen have been caught in a cost-price squeeze that has resulted in sporadic milk strikes and mounting pressure on the administration to provide some relief. Obviously the sharp practices of the foreign producers were benefiting no one except themselves.

Some action to arrest an economic erosion that has already driven many dairymen off the land was long overdue.

18,000 ATTEND ANNUAL ART FAIR
—1 Year Ago—
Sunny skies drew 18,000 to the annual art fair held at Lake Front park in St. Joseph yesterday. One-hundred-sixteen artists displayed original works at the fair which was sponsored by the St. Joseph Art association. Nature smiled on the sponsors who had been keeping their fingers crossed for a sunny day. The crowd wandered through the five-block exhibit throughout the day, some "just looking," others buying.

Featured again was the Detroit Institute of Arts' artmobile, an art gallery on wheels. Among this year's exhibits were paintings depicting life in Early America as the county spread toward the West.

LAKE SHORE SELECTS FIRST SCHOOL BOARD

In a surprisingly small turnout of voters a permanent school board for the newly created Lakeshore school district was elected in this week's balloting. All incumbents, appointed to the new board a few weeks ago, were returned with the exception of Paul Pierson, former Ruggles secretary, who was unseated by Harry Gast Jr., former president of the Evans district.

The new board includes Dom Binda, former Stewart district secretary and appointive Lakeshore president; William Nitz, former Baroda secretary and appointive Lakeshore secretary; James Small, former Stevensville president and appointive Lakeshore treasurer; Edwin Bartz, former South Lincoln president and appointive Lakeshore trustee; and Harry Gast Jr.

British mobile columns, operating on the right flank of Field Marshal Erwin Rommel's Axis army west of El Alamein, have compelled enemy armored forces to withdraw northward, British headquarters announced today. The British maneuver apparently was a continuation of the allies which hard-hitting armored patrols have been carrying out daily to keep Rommel on the defensive and thereby postpone a showdown in the battle for Egypt.

Allied bombers, meanwhile, were reported blasting at the Axis leader's tenuous lines of communication and were credited with destroying more than 50 enemy transport vehicles in one assault.

AN OPEN LETTER TO TWENTY-FOUR WIVES

First of all: We would like to know whether you are the wives of workers, or wives of Supervisors — Clerical — or Management men.

Assuming that you will CLAIM to be the wives of workers we ask: What do you expect to gain by "selling out" your husbands who have been supporting you over the years? Do YOU bring home the money or does your husband? Do you favor selling your husbands' labor and sweat — indeed his very life for a second class citizenship — a second class standard of living?

If your husband were to die under the old contract you would not receive ONE CENT of that part of his wages that were set aside for pension. Do you want to throw this part of his wages away? Do you want to "use up" your husband for the few cents that Whirlpool thinks he's worth? Apparently, you agree with Whirlpool that he's not worth very much in which case you shouldn't have married him. (you make us sick).

If you think so little of your husband who, incidentally, has provided you with . . . the new car, house, furniture, color TV, food, clothing, education for the kids, possible braces for the kids teeth (if indeed you DO have all these) because of his hard work and close attention to his job to such an extent that HE has won Whirlpool TWO "Awards of Excellence" — If you have so little regard for this man you should be ashamed of yourself. (We are ashamed of you).

Out of the 24 of you — if you ARE the wives of workers most of your husbands voted FOR THE STRIKE (look at the results of the vote). Why not BACK HIM UP instead of SELLING HIM OUT?

P.S. Are you ashamed to sign your names? YOU SHOULD BE.

speaking of YOUR HEALTH

By Lester L. Coleman, M. D.

Does a bedtime snack interfere with a good night's sleep? Almost everyone has his pet theory about the advantages and disadvantages of late bedtime snacks.

There are some who insist they can only get a good night's sleep with a crack or warm milk. There are others who are disturbed all night if they eat anything.

One can only judge by his own past experience as to whether or not he should eat anything before going to sleep. If there is a special medical condition, like a stomach ulcer, it is important that the stomach have some food in it at all times. Patients with ulcers are often awakened during the night with abdominal pains from which they get relief with a light snack.

Only recently, a group of 36 volunteers ate a 275-calorie snack before going to sleep. They did this for one week and were studied for the effect on their sleep.

The next week the bedtime snack was eliminated. The conclusion of the research scientists was that there was no difference in the character or the depth of the sleep whether they ate or did not eat at bedtime.

The choice still remains with the individual. I should venture, as a doctor, that it would not be wise to overload the stomach with food that is difficult to digest before going to bed.

Is a swelling or growth on the wrist dangerous in a young person?

I gather by your simple description that the condition is one that is called a ganglion. Sometimes it grows in size and becomes a nuisance rather than a threat to health.

Ganglions are really cysts of the tendons and the joints. They are filled with a thick jelly-like substance and have a thin wall. They occur in other parts of the body besides the wrist where they are seen most frequently.

As I said before, they are not dangerous. They do not ever become cancerous. Only rarely, do they become infected. They can be removed simply under local anesthesia and spare the patient doubt or concern.

There was a time when these ganglia were broken with a sharp bang on the wrist with the Bible. I am certain that the reason that the Bible was chosen was not for its religious importance but rather because it almost always was the heaviest book in the house. This practice has now been discontinued favoring the more successful surgical approach.

Is there really a hearing aid for people with nerve deafness? The advertisements seem to say there is.

Oto logists, who are ear specialists, are distressed by the number of their patients who are sucked into the trap of buying a highly advertised hearing aid "specially made for nerve deafness." Almost always this expensive instrument finds its way into a drawer; unused and worthless.

Reliable hearing aid manufacturers do not promise the return of hearing to those with nerve deafness. One's own physician is the only reliable way to be referred to hearing aid distributors who genuinely are interested in hearing problems rather than in the sale of an instrument.

Opening lead — five of spades.

This hand occurred in the match between Argentina and Jamaica during the Second World Bridge Olympiad staged in New York in 1964.

Here is how Arturo Jaques, the Argentine South, described the deal in the June, 1964, issue of the Bridge World magazine:

"My partner, Marcelo Lerner, and I ordinarily use very simple Acol bidding, but what bid, other than a heart, could I make after my partner's one diamond response? I had no spade stopper for notrump, and three clubs would not be particularly illuminating. And besides, how can partner possibly bid the no-trump with my heart holding?

"But now he jumps to three hearts, and again I'm stuck for a bid. I think that bidding three notrump without a spade stopper is surely out of the question, and in this situation a bid of three spades (after a jump) is not regular fourth-suit forcing and must show a spade control. I could see no way out, so I just bid four hearts and hoped for the best.

"When dummy came down I noted with great displeasure that three notrump was ice cold, and that my brilliant (!) bidding had succeeded in getting the wrong contract.

"On the lead of a small spade I went up with the ace and played the A-K of clubs followed by the jack — unfortunately ruffed by West with the six.

"I overruled in dummy, led a small diamond to the ace, and then played the ten of clubs, dummy discarding a spade. Then I led still another club, discarding dummy's last spade, and East now ruffs and returns a low trump.

"By this time the position is clear. I put in the heart nine, which fetches the ace, and I am lucky to bring home ten tricks for my contract."

IT HAPPENED TODAY

On this day in 1908, William Jennings Bryan was nominated for the third time as the presidential candidate of the Democrats.

BORN TODAY

French theologian and reformer John Calvin was born in 1509 in Noyon, Picardy, where his father was procurer-fiscal and secretary of the diocese. He studied Latin in Paris, then became a law student in Orleans where he first became interested in theology.

With a background of humanism, a student of Latin and Greek and familiarity with the writings of Plato, Seneca and St. Augustine, Calvin was converted to the Reformation and began to preach its doctrines. Because of the radical Protestant beliefs he expressed in a speech at the inaugural ceremony of the University of Paris, Calvin was forced to flee.

He went to Basel, Switzerland, in 1533, where he published his major work, "Institutes of the Christian Religion," containing the essence of his teaching. In 1538 he settled in Geneva where he "Confession of Faith" in the cathedral, he acquired a following and soon became religious arbiter of the city.

The strictness of his discipline made him unpopular and he was banished, for a time, in 1538. Returning in 1541, Calvin established a Protestant theocracy in Geneva, from which his teachings spread throughout Europe.

None can dispute Calvin's intellectual greatness, nor the powerful services he rendered to the Protestant cause. He systematized its doctrine and organized its ecclesiastical discipline. During his lifetime his teachings were adopted by the French Huguenots, by the Scots through John Knox, and by the founders of the Dutch and German Reformed churches.

Others born today are painter James McNeill Whistler, author Marcel Proust, lawyer William Blackstone, humorist Finley Peter Dunne, newsman David Brinkley.

SAVE FOUR FROM LAKE AFTER YACHT BURNS

Cold Night Spent In Little Boat

Chicago Restaurant Owner's $40,000 Craft Destroyed

Four Chicagoans who left South Haven Saturday bound for Chicago in a 39-foot cruiser were rescued near Chicago Sunday in a dinghy after abandoning their burning cruiser 18 hours earlier.

Harold Seltzer, 50, owner of the restaurant "That Steak Joint" in Chicago's Old Town, his son Steven, 20, and two others have been the subjects of an extensive search by numerous private and Coast Guard vessels, including those from St. Joseph and South Haven.

The four were rescued 25 miles northwest of Chicago by Paul Brown of Grand Rapids in his sailing sloop Mitena.

The other two passengers were Bert L. Miner, 50, a lawyer, and Abe Paulson, 41, a photographer.

Seltzer and the others left South Haven Saturday afternoon bound for Chicago. Seltzer said the craft's radio went dead and fire was discovered in the boat's forward bilge compartment.

$40,000 LOSS
The four men crowded into a two-man dinghy and the $40,000 pleasure craft "went up like a Roman Candle," Seltzer said.

They spent 18 chilly hours adrift in the dinghy. Seltzer said in their haste, they neglected to take flares or life jackets into the dinghy. They were clad only in shirts and swimming trunks.

St. Joseph Coast Guardsmen searched 6 1/2 hours for the missing boat before the four men were picked up by Paul Brown. Coast Guardsmen from South Haven sent two boats out at 11:29 a.m. Sunday. They returned from the search much later in the evening after answering two other boat assistance calls.

What Role Should UN Play In World?

How much do you know about the United Nations?

A multiplex of organizations, the United Nations is constantly in the news as it attempts "to save succeeding generations from the scourge of war, which twice in our lifetime has brought untold sorrow to mankind, and to reaffirm faith in fundamental human rights."

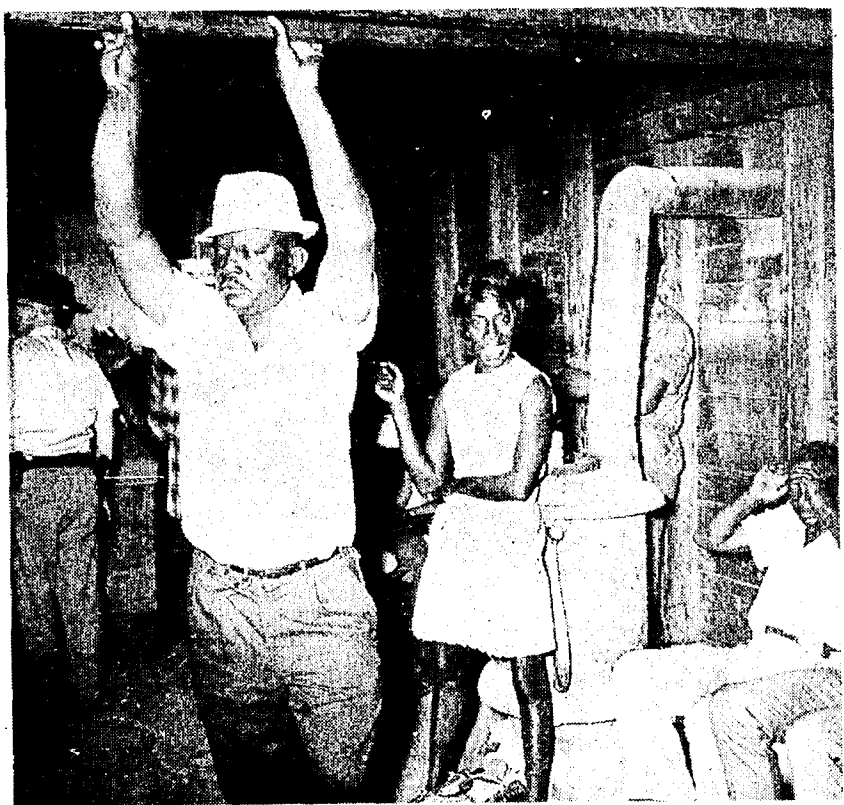

As stated in the United Nations charter preamble, these are the two primary reasons for its existence. There are others and they are a constant source of news as the United Nations works toward the common welfare of the world.

The United Nations a towering glass building on the banks of the East River in New York, also makes news because of its very existence. How much worldly power, for example, should the United Nations have? Or who should or should not become a member of its General Assembly?

These are questions that will continue indefinitely as man attempts to answer them. They also make a part of the news which readers should be acquainted with. The News Quiz on page 7 this week includes three questions on the United Nations. Can you answer them?

The News Quiz is brought to you by this newspaper and Visual Education Consultants, Inc., in cooperation with an area firm-Brown's Pharmacy, 2189 Red Arrow highway, to make newspaper readers a more critical and informed reader.

Now Possible To Shrink Painful Hemorrhoids

And Promptly Stop The Itching, Relieve Pain In Most Cases.

New York, N. Y. (Special): A scientific research institute has discovered a medication which has the ability in most cases to actually shrink hemorrhoids. In case after case, the sufferer first notices prompt relief from the itching, burning and pain. Then this medication starts right in to gently reduce the swelling of inflamed, irritated hemorrhoids.

Tests conducted on hundreds of patients by leading doctors in New York City, in Washington, D.C. and at a Midwest Medical Center proved this so.

And it was all accomplished without narcotics or stinging astringents of any kind.

The secret is Preparation H®—an exclusive formula for the treatment of hemorrhoids. There is no other formula like it! In addition to actually shrinking piles and relieving the painful distress—Preparation H lubricates, makes bowel movements less painful and soothes the irritated tissues. It also helps prevent further infection.

Preparation H comes in ointment or suppository form. No prescription is needed.

ROUSING START FOR THREE OAKS CENTENNIAL

Future Of Festival Is In Doubt

Spectacular Ends Blueberry Show At South Haven

By JIM DONAHUE
South Haven Bureau

SOUTH HAVEN — The third and probably most elaborate blueberry festival concluded here Saturday with a volley of activities ranging from an all-day pancake dinner to a quiet showing of local watercraft in an after-dark Venetian night ceremony on the Black river.

But even while congratulatory remarks and words of praise were still coming in, Chamber of Commerce president Arthur Clarke, Jr. and festival chairman Sam Overton were forecasting a possible end to future blueberry festivals, at least those of the magnitude offered during the past week.

"A thorough review will have to be made," Clarke said Sunday. "To maintain a festival of this caliber, additional means of financing will have to be sought."

HIGH BUDGET

In short, Clarke was saying that the Blueberry Festival committee's budget of about $4,500, including a $1,500 bill planned for a concert by Dixie Land group "The Stompers," may have been far more than the committee could afford to spend.

Overton said he agreed with Clarke "that some means will have to be devised to raise the bunting before we can have another festival of this scale. "We learned some lessons this year," Overton continued. "I'm sure we will come up with something on this. The festival is building itself too much each year to die."

The festival committee had constructed its budget around the appearance of the famed dixieland band, "The Stompers," and it was hoped that a crowd of nearly 3,000 would pack the local school gymnasium. The show had been planned as a money raiser to

TROUBLE DEVELOPS

But trouble developed in two ways on the night of the concert. Only 300 persons showed up, and the band never made it at all. Tickets had to be refunded, and the committee has consulted legal counsel to seek a refund of a $750 advance paid "The Stompers," plus an additional sum to cover the cost of advertising and promotion for the event.

The other two money-raising activities, a donkey baseball game on Monday night and an all-day pancake dinner at the Congregational church, drew good sized crowds. In addition, Overton said it appears that some profit will be realized through the Jollyland Carnival, which was parked in Dyckman parking lot throughout the week.

While it may be a few weeks before the committee knows how it came out financially,

Overton said that he didn't think the budget will be too far off. "We may even come out of this with a couple of hundred dollars in the bank," he said.

WANT TO CONTINUE

Both Clarke and Overton agreed that the festival should be continued because of the important impact it seems to be having on the community.

"There is a problem of finances," Clarke commented. "But I believe they should be continued because of the good will we create for the entire community."

Clarke lauded festival chairman Overton, chamber manager Addison Roberts and all of the local service clubs and organizations that helped make the festival a success.

Other participating organizations that played major roles in the festival were the Lions and Rotary clubs, the Junior Chamber of Commerce, the River Bend Boat club, South Haven Yacht club, the South Haven Independent Insurance Agents Association and city of South Haven.

Working with the local chamber to sponsor the festival was the Michigan Blueberry Growers association.

Numerous other organizations participated.

'President McKinley' Is Speaker

Celebration Is To Continue Through Week

By BILL RUMBLER
South Berrien Bureau

THREE OAKS — The Region of Three Oaks centennial week got off to a loud and well-attended beginning yesterday afternoon with an address by a modern-day President McKinley and a rededication of the Dewey Cannon.

At least 1,500 bewhiskered men and sunbonneted women were present at Dewey Cannon park to welcome President McKinley, impersonated by Justice Paul Ballew of New Buffalo, an ex-vaudeville actor.

Stepping off an ancient stagecoach used to transport him there, the President requested a red carpet laid out to welcome him be rolled up, stating that God's green earth is good enough for him to walk on.

REPEATS 1899 SPEECH

In a repeat of the President's speech given Oct. 17, 1899, Ballew said: "We have had very many beautiful receptions in our long journey throughout the great Northwest but I assure you we have had none more beautiful or picturesque than the one you have given us here at Three Oaks."

Three Oaks earned the Spanish cannon captured by Admiral Dewey in a national contest by contributing more money per capita than any other community in the nation towards Battle-ship Maine monument fund.

Yesterday the cannon was fired by a five-man contingent of the 12th Special Forces group, Airborne, from South Bend, and then fired later for the benefit of the camera crew of Chicago NBC newsmen Bill Warrick.

Earlier in the day the crew also filmed costumed residents leaving a church. This footage, plus a filmed interview with village President James Hausmann, will be aired on TV today.

The newsmen had filmed a practice firing of the cannon in June and hoped to air it July Fourth but faulty film prevented it.

In addition to the president, area residents also heard addressed by Hausmann and centennial Chairman James Flick and several numbers by the Old Timers band. Clayton DeWaters was master of ceremonies.

About 500 oldtimers sat in a special guest of honor section, were recognized by name and given red ribbons.

A tree planting ceremony and a special combined religious program followed the cannon dedication yesterday.

MERCHANTS PARADE

Today, a merchants' parade will be held downtown and stores will feature old fashioned bargains. There will be a hot-enanny from 7 to 9 p.m. in the downtown section, followed by the Queen's Ball, 9:30 p.m. until 12:30 a.m. at St. Mary's parish hall, when the seven queen contestant finalists will be presented.

A square dance scheduled for 7 to 9 p.m. tonight downtown has been reset for the same time tomorrow night.

Tomorrow, there will be tours through area industrial plants, a greased pig catching contest in the park library area at 2 p.m., an old fashioned ice cream social at the Reformed church at 6:30 p.m. plus the first performance of the historical stage show "Growth of an Acorn" in Memorial park at 8:30 p.m.

Three Youths Are Injured

EDWARDSBURG — Three Edwardsburg youths were listed in fair condition this morning in St. Joseph hospital, South Bend, Ind., after receiving treatment for injuries incurred last night when their car hit a tree near Eagle Lake, Edwardsburg.

Driving the car was James T. Carlton, 18. His passengers were Dennis Januckowski, 19, and Ralph Jenkins, 17.

According to Cass county sheriff's deputies, Carlton was traveling at a high rate of speed on Brady road, near South Shore drive, at 10:25 p.m. when he came to the end of the road and struck a tree.

WAVES TO CROWD: A modern-day President McKinley waves to the large crowd that gathered at Dewey Cannon Park Sunday to hear his address and the rededication of the Dewey Cannon start off centennial week for the Region of Three Oaks. Justice of the Peace Paul Ballew of New Buffalo impersonated President McKinley for the ceremony. (Staff photo)

AT BANGOR

Another Bad $20 Bill Turns Up

BANGOR — A second counterfeit $20 bill, identical to a bill recently discovered at Benton Harbor, turned up at West Michigan Savings Bank in Bangor Saturday, South Haven state police said.

Troopers said bank teller Kenneth Duda spotted the bill when it was brought to the bank by a customer who said he had picked up the bill when he cashed his pay check at a local grocery store.

The bill is an authentic looking copy that is only detected by its serial number and the bright green and white printing on its back, police added. It will be turned over to U. S. Treasury Department officials who are investigating the source of the bill that turned up at Benton Harbor.

Benton Man Is Arrested

Benton township police arrested Ernest Finchout, 23, of 530 Summerfelt street, this morning on a charge of breaking and entering.

The arrest was based on the report of Mrs. Betty Goodwin, 1101 Maynard drive, that Finchout entered her house without permission and took a record player, records, a mixer and deep fryer.

In other reports, Pauline Schuchner, owner of the Sunset tavern, 1485 Red Arrow highway, reported that approximately $75 in coins was stolen in a break-in. Also taken, she said, was an unknown amount of change from two machines, and three cartons of cigarettes.

Oralea Morris, Route 2, Coloma, reported that she lost $105 from her wallet Saturday, while she was at the Bluebird tavern, 1304 Territorial road.

Jack Slips; Falling Car Kills Youth

Hartford Farm
Worker Dies

HARTFORD — A 16-year-old fruit picker on the Art McFarland farm, 66th avenue, died Saturday night of injuries suffered when the jack slipped on the car under which he was working and the car's frame struck his head.

Clyde N. Bullock, formerly of Groveland, Fla., was pronounced dead at 7:15 p.m. at Watervliet community hospital.

Bullock and his brother-in-law, Early Goodson, 27, were attempting to remove the starter on the 1958 automobile, which had just been purchased in Dowagiac by Bullock's brother.

Goodson told Paw Paw state police he was on the car's fender removing the screws holding the starter in place while Bullock was under the car wiggling the starter to loosen it when the jack gave way.

RUSHED TO HOSPITAL

Goodson said he ran to get his wife, who pulled Bullock out from under the car while he raised the front end. They rushed the boy to Watervliet community hospital in another car, and he was pronounced dead about 15 minutes after arrival.

Police were told the boy's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Bullock, were working on a farm in Shelby, Mich.

He was born Aug. 30, 1950, in Webster, Fla., the son of Richard and Eula Bullock.

Beside his parents, survivors include two sisters, Mrs. Loretta Goodson of South Haven and Miss Carolyn Bullock of Shelby; and three brothers, Ouse of Hartford, William of Centerhill, Fla., and Bobby of South Haven.

Shed Damaged By Gas Blaze

SOUTH HAVEN — Volunteer firemen were called to the home of Richard Penoyar, 1078 Wilson street, South Haven, around 6 p.m. Sunday when a can of gasoline burst into flames inside a storage shed.

FAST WORK: Members of the Christian Reformed Laymen's League of Hudsonville erect this four-bedroom ranch style home and two-car garage in about eight hours Saturday at Horseshoe Chapel located northeast of Grand Junction on 104th avenue. The house will be the parsonage for Evangelist Nathan Baylor, pastor of the church who presently commutes from Grand Rapids. About 65 laymen and another 20 women from the Hudsonville church participated in the building bee. (Staff photo)

GRAND JUNCTION BEE

Parsonage Built In One Day

GRAND JUNCTION — An old-fashioned building bee was held by members of the Christian Reformed Laymen's League of Hudsonville Saturday to erect a parsonage at Horseshoe Chapel, a Christian Reformed church, about five miles northeast of here on 104th avenue.

An estimated 65 league members converged at the church to start building at 7 a.m. By mid-afternoon the entire shell of the ranch style home, complete with an attached two-car garage, shutters, siding and shingles, was finished.

It will be the home of new church pastor, evangelist Nathan Baylor, who has been commuting from Grand Rapids since he joined the church in February.

"We had doctors, a dentist, a stockbroker, farmers and builders, people from all walks of life out here today," remarked league president Gordon Piersma. "About 20 women of the church came to help out at lunch time."

Piersma said that much of the money and materials needed to erect the modest four-bedroom home had already been donated, and the labor provided by the church members would make the cost "next to nothing." The house would be valued at $17,000.

Plans by the Hudsonville league were to maintain the house and charge rent for its use by the Horseshoe Chapel. Rental payments would be used to offset any indebtedness that may remain after completion of the house.

Hudsonville contractor Jerry Batjes was given the job of directing the construction work. Batjes said that the foundation and floor of the house were erected in advance. On Saturday builders then erected the walls, roof windows, roofing, siding and studs for interior rooms within about eight hours.

The electrical work and plumbing, plus the completion of the interior of the house remained to be done.

The Horseshoe church began as a small Sunday school in the Horseshoe country school around 1940. Ten years later a small chapel was built on the present property and five years ago the church was enlarged to its present size.

The Horseshoe church is sponsored by classis Zeeland of the Christian Reformed church.
